

TANZANIA COMMISSION FOR UNIVERSITIES

A Booklet on Institutional and Programme Clusters

NOVEMBER 2021

1.0 INTRODUCTION

Consistent with best practices governing the provision of university education across the world, the Tanzania Commission for Universities (TCU) like other Higher Education Regulatory Agencies uses various frameworks to guide University institutions in various aspects including categorising institutions and programmes into various clusters.

Experience shows that when submitting academic programmes to the Commission for accreditation or re-accreditation through the Programme Management System (PMS), some University institutions have been providing information on programme clusters which do not match with the discipline cluster of the proposed or reviewed academic programme.

This Booklet is therefore meant to facilitate University institutions to appropriately identify clusters of institutions and programmes during the development and submission of academic programmes to the Commission for validation and accreditation/re-accreditation or for other purposes where specification of information on institutional or programme clusters may be required.

2.0 CLUSTERS OF UNIVERSITIES

Considering the different modalities and practices of establishing universities, there are currently University institutions of different sizes and shapes in the country. Also, within institutions there are different categories and subcategories of units such as schools, colleges, faculties, departments, institutes etc. Thus, based on Standard 1.2 of the Standards and Guidelines for University Education in Tanzania, 2019 on the Management Structures of the Universities, different units of the universities have been grouped in clusters to quick reference of the status of the university institution and type of governance structure. Meaning of various terminologies used to cluster university institution are provided hereunder, while clusters and governance status are summarized in Table 1.

Adopted College: means a college that is initially established independently but at a later stage it seeks to be fully guided by the university in terms of both the academic awards and approvals including academic staff promotion with exception of the other aspects of management of its resources that will be under the control of the respective governance organ as per the legal instruments that established the college.

Affiliated College: means an autonomous higher education institution accredited to offer degree programmes and confer degrees on behalf of an accredited university.

Associate College: means a college established independently under its enabling legal instrument that seek and obtain the university's participation in its academic programme or programmes in terms of professional and academic guidance and supervision to ensure that the college operates at a level appropriate to its own statutory object or purposes and functions with the view to raising and upholding the standards of the college and heightening its status and prestige, but does not seek to participate in any programme of the university nor to attain the level of standard of the university.

Autonomous Campus, Institute, School or Centre: An academic unit of a college or university that has the same characteristics as those related to a college or university.

Campus Centre: means a non-autonomous governance unit within a college, school, faculty, directorate or department established by a legal instrument of a university and such an institution may also be established in respect of an autonomous institute or centre.

Campus College: means a non-autonomous governance unit within the premises of or in close proximity to a university established by a legal instrument of a university.

Campus Institute: means a non-autonomous governance unit within the premises of or in close proximity to a university established by a legal instrument of a university

Campus School: means a non-autonomous governance unit within the premises of or in close proximity to a university established by a legal instrument of a university and such an institution may also be established in respect of an autonomous institute or centre.

Connected College: means an autonomous institution empowered to offer university level education which depends on the university to which it is affiliated for the approval and validation of its academic programmes, courses and awards including student entry qualification, course syllabi and examination rules.

Constituent College: means semi-autonomous institution established and empowered to offer university level education placed under the tutelage of a university including a foreign university, for nurturance with a view to its establishment as an independent university

Department: means a non-autonomous governance unit within a college, school, faculty or directorate established by a legal instrument of a university and such an institution may also be established in respect of an autonomous institute or centre.

Directorate: means a non-autonomous governance unit within the premises of or in close proximity to a university established by a legal instrument of a university and such an institution may also be established in respect of an autonomous institute or centre.

Faculty: means a non-autonomous governance unit within the premises of or in close proximity to a university established by a legal instrument of a university and such an institution may also be established in respect of an autonomous institute or centre.

Unit: means a non-autonomous governance unit within a College, School, Faculty, Directorate, Department or Campus centre established by a legal instrument of a university and such an institution may also be established in respect of an autonomous institute or centre.

University: means an institution which offers a level of education and training that leads to intermediate and full academic or professional qualifications and competence namely certificate, diplomas and degrees.
